

6.7 million people

are working and living in poverty

That's over 1/2 of all people living in poverty in the UK

That's over 1 in 10

of all the people in the whole of the UK

If everyone in working poverty stood side by side they would stretch up the island of Great Britain and back down again

(The length from Land's End to John o' Groats)

That number of people could fill

over 12,780 Boeing 747 airliners

(524 people in a typical two-class configuration)

That's over

8x

The number of people who were born last year in the UK

(812,970 births in 2012 according to ONS)

That number of people could fill

over 95,700 double-decker buses (about 70 people/bus)

That's more than

2x

the population of Wales

(The population of Wales is 3.1 million according to ONS)

That's 22x the number of people that graduate each year

That number of people could fill

Wembley stadium 75x

(90,000 people is Wembley's capacity)
